

Global Village School Newsletter

Issue Number 1

Tuesday 28th March

WELCOME TO THE BRAND NEW SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Here it is - the very first GVS Newsletter. Keep it safe as it may become a collector's item and worth a fortune in years to come!

The aim of the newsletter is to provide information about the school to the wider school community. It is a means of informing about future events and other important updates for parents. We are proud of the children in the school and this is a way of sharing some of the exciting learning from the classrooms and celebrating the many successes the children enjoy.

We are aware of the impact on the environment of providing paper newsletters on a regular basis. So, in the future, the newsletters will be available online on our facebook page: www.facebook.com/GlobalVillageSchoollanta . If you are unable to access the facebook page for whatever reason, please inform the school office that you would like a paper copy sent home.

PARENTS MEETING

We would like to thank all those parents who came along to the school meeting. It was an excellent turnout and proved to be an extremely productive meeting. One popular request was for access to the GVS parents page set up by Tom on facebook. For those who were unable to attend or have mislaid the details, the group is called Global Village Parents.

PIZZA AND FILM

A couple of weeks ago, Octopus Class had a fun night of delicious pizza and then settled down to watch Toy Story to celebrate the end of the toy topic they have been using in their learning. Great fun was had by all.

Layla: "I loved the nice juice, pizza and cake."

Kamal: "I really enjoyed the film and the tasty pizza."

and finally ...

Have a great week!

INSIDE STORY HEADLINE

This story can fit 150-200 words.

One benefit of using your newsletter as a promotional tool is that you can reuse content from other marketing materials, such as press releases, market studies, and reports.

While your main goal of distributing a newsletter might be to sell your product or service, the key to a successful newsletter is making it useful to your readers.

A great way to add useful content to your newsletter is to develop and write your own articles, or include a calendar of upcoming events or a special offer that promotes a new product.

You can also research articles or find "filler" articles by accessing the World Wide Web. You can write about a variety of topics but try to keep your articles short.

Much of the content you put in your newsletter can also be used for your Web site. Microsoft Publisher offers a simple way to convert your newsletter to a Web publication. So,

"To catch the reader's attention, place an interesting sentence or quote from the story here."

INSIDE STORY HEADLINE

This story can fit 100-150 words.

The subject matter that appears in newsletters is virtually endless. You can include stories that focus on current technologies or innovations in your field.

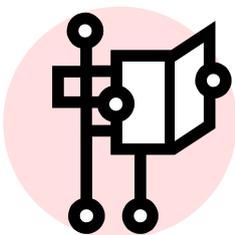

You may also want to note business or economic trends, or make predictions for your customers or clients.

If the newsletter is distributed internally, you might comment upon new procedures or improvements to the business. Sales figures or earnings will show how your business is growing.

Some newsletters include a column that is updated every issue, for instance, an advice column, a book review, a letter from the president, or an editorial. You can also profile new employees or top customers or vendors.

INSIDE STORY HEADLINE

This story can fit 75-125 words.

Selecting pictures or graphics is an important part of adding content to your newsletter.

Think about your article and ask yourself if the picture supports or enhances the message you're trying to convey. Avoid selecting images that appear to be out of context.

Microsoft Publisher includes thousands of clip art images from which you can choose and import into your newsletter. There are also several tools you can use to draw shapes and symbols.

Once you have chosen an image, place it close to the article. Be sure to place the caption of the image near the image.

This would be a good place to insert a short paragraph about your organization. It might include the purpose of the organization, its mission, founding date, and a brief history. You could also include a brief list of the types of products, services, or programs your organization offers, the geographic area covered (for example, western U.S. or European markets), and a profile of the types of customers or members served.

It would also be useful to include a contact name for readers who want more information about the organization.

BACK PAGE STORY HEADLINE

This story can fit 175-225 words.

If your newsletter is folded and mailed, this story will appear on the back. So, it's a good idea to make it easy to read at a glance.

A question and answer session is a good way to quickly capture the attention of readers. You can either compile questions that you've received since the last edition or you can summarize some generic questions that are frequently asked about your organization.

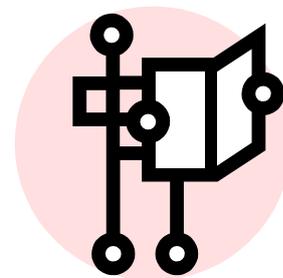

A listing of names and titles of managers in your organization is a good way to give your newsletter a personal touch. If your organization is small, you may want to list the names of all employees.

If you have any prices of standard products or services, you can include a listing of those here. You may want to refer your readers to any other forms of communication that you've created for your organization.

You can also use this space to remind readers to mark their calendars for a regular event, such as a breakfast meeting for vendors every third Tuesday of the month, or a biannual charity auction.

If space is available, this is a good place to insert a clip art image or some other graphic.
